LASALLE GIRLS VICTIM OF FOUR-CAR CRASH.

Two young women of LaSalle were injured Sat. morning Oct. 29, in a freak accident when the car in which they were passengers had a four-car crash in front of the Lido Venice Hotel.

Miss Marie Chappus daughter of Ferdinand Chappus a well-known resident of LaSalle was the most seriously injured, receiving a deep facial gash. Miss Delores O'Gorman was treated at Grace hospital for abrasions and shock. Mr. Raymond Manwaring of Detroit, the driver of the car, was also hospitalized with head injuries.

All three are now home and are recovering from their injuries.

GYP ANTIFREEZE RUIN MANY CARS

Antifreeze can be a cheap blessing or a expensive curse, warns Laird S. Goldsborough in a Reader's Digest Consumer Report, in the November issue. Many motorists, ignorant of the properties of antifreeze fluids, will be victimized this winter by gyps who make and sell corrosive, salt-based antifreeze solutions.

These crooks, Goldsborough states, annually peddle a million gallons of antifreeze that is ruinous to cars. Made with a few cents' worth of ordinary salt, mixed with water, a gallon of the gyp solution may be priced at a $1 to $3.50, comparable to the price of good antifreeze. But every gyp gallon costs some motorist ten to hundred dollars for repairs. In a lawsuit now pending the plaintiffs charge that a single salt-base brand has caused $10 million damage to cars.

The worst type of the gyp product, termed "ferociously corrosive" by the author, are regularly sold with claims that they "will not attack, corrode, rust, clog or harm any kind of metal, rubber or paint surface". But tests have shown that the salt-basis to the cylinder block, water pump, radiator, and especially of any aluminum parts, such as cylinder heads. Resulting corrosion products cause partial or complete stoppage of water passages, with consequent overheating and boiling.

Good antifreeze is compounded of one or more of the alcohols. The Reader's Digest article points out. Wood alcohol and grain alcohol account for 75 per cent of all good antifreeze sold. The so-called nonvolatile glycol antifreezes make up the rest.

The average car in good condition loses one to two quarts of coolant every 1,000 miles, Raging 34-hour blizzard that swept across western Canada and into the U.S., deluged Lethbridge, Alta., with plenty of snow. In Manitoba, serious damage was done to power and communication lines cated from a snow drift, by two sleet, snow and rain storms that sprang up within 24 hours. Seen above is car that was extricated from a snow drift, by Florence Norman, which had buried it completely, leaving only aerial showing.

YOUTH CENTER

The LaSalle Youth Center held an executive meeting on Sunday and all were in attendance. They came up with a dance for the benefit of the center for their winter's bit of progress towards a new community center. The dance will be held on Saturday night Nov. 19, 9 p.m. at the Rainbow Garden LaSalle.

Goldsborough says. Nearly all of this loss is down the overflow tube, very little by evaporation. To prevent loss, do not overfill your radiator. When you can see the liquid, don't put in anymore. Keep the solution on hand and replace losses with the solution, not with straight antifreeze from a can. Under no circumstances should any antifreeze be left in the cooling system during the summer.

Plane Stowaway.

Joe Corbett, 14, of Elmvale, Ont., was discovered in the unheated tail compartment of a T.C.A. aircraft when the plane landed in LaGuardia airport after its Malton-New York run. Officials placed him on the next plane back to Toronto and after a brief interview by immigration officials at Malton he was allowed to return home.

MEN ARE BLAMED

If American women are spoiled, self-centered, and overaggressive, as charged by Leland Stowe American men are to blame, counters Ramona Barth in the current Nov. issue of the Reader Digest. Miss Barth is a writer and lecturer on the feminist movement. Her article is condensed from the American Family.

American women have developed aggressiveness, Miss Barth contends, "because we live in a society which lauds initiative in both men and women, and because American men give us everything — but love. Whether she knows it or not, any girl would prefer one loving pat from her husband to the new insurance policy in his vest pocket. American is like a Cow!

...Your Sow!

A nursing sow is a lot more like a cow than most people realize — even her owner! To grow a big, strong, healthy, thrifty litter she has to provide around a pint of good rich milk per pig per day. Figure that out for 10 or 12 pigs, and it adds up! So she needs body-building, conditioning feed before and after they're born . . . a milk-maker, too. Grain alone won't do the job right.

If you have good grain, make the most of it — balance it, fill in its weak places with Sow & Pig Chow. Just mix it with your chop, and let the little pigs have it as well as the sow.

If you're short of grain, or your grain is poor, feed both the sow and pigs Pig Growena just as it comes from the bag. (Many good hog men feed one bag per pig, after weaning, to ensure a good start.)

men chase the dollar, but they don't chase us. The result — a neurotic aggressiveness symptomatic of that basic insecurity which comes lack of love."

Increasing pressure on women to participate in the business world is another reason for modern feminine aggressiveness, the author holds, and it is dictated by a man-made economy. "Why be satisfied with one car in the garage when we can get a job that will pay enough to have two?"

Women's excessive attention to dieting, cosmetics, and girdles are an attempt to preserve the femininity they know they are losing — reflects men's indifference to their wives, Miss Barth states. Desperate for love and attention, American women get less of either from their husbands than any other women on earth. What they do get, though they don't genuinely desire them, are material offerings — the mink coats and orchids which proclaim their husbands' material success.

Claiming American men to be "tops in looks," Miss Barth holds that they should nevertheless emulate the "demonstrative, attentive, social nature of the European male . . . who has eyes only for his feminine partner and effervesces about her ankles, her food, her charm.

DON BROWN SPEAKS

Several years ago while I was on the Windsor City Council I raised the point of the smoke nuisance being suffered by the city of Windsor especially on Sandwich Street E. and around the C.P.R. Round House, this was on the instigation of a number of residents those areas. From year to year this has been carried on by interested citizens and public servants. Of interest, therefore, to such persons is the Bill which has introduced in the House of Commons recently by a private member which would require all Round Houses and other permanent installations to comply with any Municipal By-Law of any urban municipality regulation the emmission of smoke or soot into the atmosphere.

This was supported by many speakers of the House. One speaker, however, pointed out that the greatest smoke offenders were Lake Freighters, and other Steamers. Since Windsor is on the Detroit River, the busiest inland waterway of the world, this argument was of particular to me. Personally I do not see how we can do anything about that since most of the boats plying the Detroit River are of American registry and consequently not within our jurisdiction. It would therefore have to be by some arrangement or agreement with the United States so far as their legislation is concerned.

The Hon. Lionel Chevalier Minister of Transport, in speaking to the Bill commended the introducer for having brought the matter before the House and then proceeded to explain what had been done so far as the railways in Canada are concerned in relieving the various centres such as Windsor, from the smoke nuisance. One way in which this has been eliminated to a large extent, was by the installation of special equipment on Seam Switching Locomotives for the purpose of eliminating smoke, these are known as Over-Fire Jets, for the purpose of cutting down the smoke as much as possible. Then the railways have been installing as much as possible Diesel Engines. The minister felt that the Diesels the railway can purchase and employ on switching operations the more can be the nuisance from soot and smoke will be abated. Ten years ago the practically no utilization of Diesel Engines, five years ago the position was a little better and in the last five years the railway has been doing an excellent job in the way

Canada, and as you know there are several in the Windsor area. recently the General Cotores Corporation had its new streamline Diesel Electric Train known as the Train of to-morrow, run into the Ottawa yard and I had the opportunity of making a casual inspection of this train and I might tell you that the features incorporated in this train are things that I had never dreamed of, for instance in each car there is built what was known as Astrodrome in the ceiling where the passengers may be seated. This has a glass top and sides so that as one rides through the countryside a good view is obtained of all the farmlands and villages. One of the ministers told me he had had a ride in te car and had dinner thereon, and that although it was a rough road bed the riding qualities were superb. General Motors Corporation has established or is establishing a new Diesel plant at London Ont., for the manufacture f this equipment.

The Minister did not feel that the Bill was exactly ultraviolet of the Dominion Government but felt if it was on the border line, in any event he appealed to the House not to approve the Bill as great progress has been made by the railroads with purchasing and operating more and more Diesel Locomotives on both switching and line operation, also that they are doing the best that they possibly could under the circumstances—for these reasons he felt that it would not be fair to place a heavier burdon upon them at this time. The Bill therefore, did not pass in the House.

Vandles

To the vandals who so willfully destroyed the property of the Youth Center, our chief of police stated that the boys and girls responsible for the damage done to the boats and the remainder of the whole sordid mess, if they will come to the chief of their own accord and pay for these willfull damages. He will not publish or announce who they are. Otherwise he will take steps to collect damages. We know who you are! Parents may be surprised.
